

A Manifesto Club Night

Thursday 26th June

Doors open 7pm

Debate begins around 8pm

Old Queen's Head^{upstairs}

44 Essex Road,

London, N1 8LN

Free to Club members

£5 non-members.

DRUGS:

WHERE DO YOU

DRAW THE LINE

Marcus Roberts

Director of Policy at DrugScope, the UK's leading independent centre of information and advice on drugs.

Swaran Singh

Professor of Social & Community Psychiatry and Consultant
Psychiatrist, Warwick
Medical School.

Jamie Douglass

Contributing editor of Profile magazine.

The UK Government wants to reclassify cannabis – yet again! – this time upgrading it from a Category C to B drug, in order to 'send a message' that drugs are bad. Is this a reasonable argument for greater restrictions, or should we be free to choose our own poison, whatever its ill effects?

The Next Manifesto Club Night will interrogate the rights and wrongs of the drugs debate.
Are drugs a means to expand our horizons and experiences, or a harmless recreational choice? Should politicians use the law to send a moral message?

Manifesto Club History is still young

